THE COMPANY

Cooke is a global seafood company with operations in North America, Europe, and South America. Our company's success is driven by our dynamic, highly-skilled and innovative management team, supported by dedicated employees who live in coastal communities and contribute to the local area's economy and sense of community.

Cooke Aquaculture Scotland is committed to responsible and sustainable production and the delivery of high quality products through a number of accreditations.

THE ROLE –

We are looking to recruit a PR and Communications Manager who can positively increase the reach and impact of our Company by influential communications and PR activity which engages and inspires target audiences.

You will play a lead role in the planning and preparation of PR and communications plans, aligned to the Cooke Aquaculture corporate branding and communications strategy. You will work across the full PR and communications mix which will include media relations, digital communications, campaign development and delivery, internal/external communications and events.

SKILLS/EXPERIENCE REQUIRED –

You will need significant demonstrable experience in communications or PR in a fast-paced, complex organisation and be fluent operating and developing corporate social media accounts. A degree in PR/Communications is desirable.

Regular travel throughout the UK will be required and therefore a Full UK Driving License is essential.

THE TERMS –

In return for your commitment, hard work and dedication we offer excellent terms and conditions, including; competitive salary, bonus scheme, company pension, life insurance, salary sacrifice schemes and generous holiday entitlement.

APPLY –

If you want to be part of a team, open to fresh ideas, with the opportunity to help energise the corporate brand and profile of one of Scotland's leading Aquaculture Companies, we'd love to hear from you.
